Pratella · Anzoletti · Musiche per viola e pianoforte
Federica Cardinali · Lisa Redorici

TACTUS

DDD
108699 ℗ 2026
Made in Italy

Text by
Giacomo Sangiorgi
(Italian – English)

Recorded at Teatrino di Villa
Malerbi, Lugo
April 2026

World Premiere
Recording

Total time 50:29

8 007194 108699

108699

Teatro Rossini
·Lugo·

Pratella · Anzoletti

Musiche per viola e pianoforte
Music for viola and piano

Francesco Balilla Pratella (1880-1955)
Sonata per viola e pianoforte op. 23

1. Andante sostenuto	5:05
2. Quasi allegro – Largo solenne	6:18
3. Quasi lento – Pastorale	4:19
4. Romanza per viola e pianoforte op. 24	11:14

Marco Anzoletti (1867-1929)
Sette composizioni, per viola e pianoforte

5. Due Tombe	4:31
6. Quel che si narra	1:49
7. Idillio d'amore	4:19
8. Giovinezza	3:46
9. Primo Incontro	3:20
10. Felicità d'amanti	2:57
11. Serenata Maligna	2:23

Federica Cardinali, viola
Lisa Redorici, pianoforte

Pratella · Anzoletti · Musiche per viola e pianoforte
Federica Cardinali · Lisa Redorici

108699

TACTUS

Release Date: November 2026

Francesco Balilla Pratella is known as a musician and theorist of Futurism, but his activity was much broader: he was a writer, librettist, ethnomusicologist, and director of the "Verdi" Institute in Ravenna. He studied in Pesaro with Antonio Cicognani, to whom he dedicated the Sonata prima per organo op. 23 (1917), which blends references to the Baroque with pushes towards atonality. He contributed with dedication to the dissemination of Italian instrumental music, as evidenced by the transcriptions for viola and piano by Francesco Pasi presented here. This project also includes the 7 Composizioni per viola e pianoforte by Marco Anzoletti (1867–1929), virtuosic and melodramatic, representative of the conflict between operatic tradition and Central European influences. All the pieces on this recording – curated by Federica Cardinali and Lisa Redorici – are world premiere recordings, the result of philological research that recovers an unjustly forgotten Italian instrumental heritage.

Categories
Chamber Music
Historical Twentieth Century

Performers
Federica Cardinali, viola · Lisa Redorici, pianoforte

Musicological Text
Giacomo Sangiorgi

Single audio cd

High Price